FRANCE DENIES IT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 19.—Count de Beaurain, French Charge here, has assured the State Department that the French government had not authorized anyone to approach Harding with suggestions that the republican nominee take the lead in forming a new world association there, "formally or informally, officially or unofficially."

It was said at the State Department that the American government had never had any intimation of a desire by the French government to "scrap" the present League of Nations or to revise it.

Cox's Attitude On Irish Question—Also Harding
(By Associated Press)
Worcester, Mass., Oct. 19.—Harding's explanation regarding his remarks relative to the alleged French overtures for a "new association of nations," was ridiculed here today by Gov. Cox, in an address to a large station crowd.

"Senator Harding is having a lot of trouble occasions by his own words," said Cox. He also reiterated his stand on the League of Nations, and said if elected he would personally take up the question of Ireland before the bar of public opinion in the world. He characterized conditions in Ireland as a war of extermination.

At Nashua, Gov. Cox said that Harding's alleged French overtures were a "blunder" and an attempt to deceive the American people. He said Harding probably meant well but his attitude would seem to make him the "Happy Holligan" of American politics, scarcely fitted for the serious business of the presidency.

SOLDIER DUBS HIM "SWOPE THE KING"

And Calls Upon Ex-Service Men To Help Put A Real Man In Congress From 8th

"Swope, the King,"—the boy Congressman from the Eighth district, received the political castigation of his young and festive life at the hands of Capt. Harry B. Miller, of Lexington, who spoke before an audience that packed and jammed the lower court room.

It happens that Capt. Miller saw just as much and more, fighting in the world war than Capt. Swope. They practiced law together in Lexington, who has really been Swope's home for some time, and not the Eighth district. Well, Capt. Miller showed up the "brave" young Congressman in a way that "brought down the house." He ridiculed his advertised usefulness in Congress, and when he had finished all wondered how the voters of the Eighth district ever happened to let young "Swope, the King," as Miller called him, ever fool them into sending him to Congress.

The speaking last night was especially to ex-service men and the big audience was composed principally of young men who saw service in the war, their sisters, mothers, and fathers. In the platform with Capt. Miller and Capt. Roberts, who followed him, sat a number of officers of the local post. It was a splendid assemblage and one of the most auspicious meetings that the democrats have held during the campaign.

Both Capt. Miller and Capt. Roberts defended the League of Nations. The declared that every soldier should be for it for he knows what war means, and he knows that without the League other wars are certain to come. Both speakers made strong appeals for the soldiers to vote for Cox and Roosevelt and for Gilbert for Congress against "Swope the King."

RAILROADERS RALLY TO COX AT SOMERSET

Somerset, Ky., Oct. 19.—Several hundred Southern railroad shop men dropped their tools here Monday afternoon and held a demonstration for Gov. Cox.

"We are for Jimmy Cox, the friend of the workingman, shunted by banners borne by the shopmen who marched through the streets of the city to the court house to hear Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart and Congressman Aswell, of Alabama."

A delegation of one hundred railroad men in automobiles met the speakers at the train.

So great was the crowd that the meeting was adjourned to the opera house, as the court house would not accommodate all.

Congressman Aswell said: "I don't see how any working man can vote for Senator Harding. I would not support any man, democrat or republican, who voted for the Esch-Cummins railroad bill. Not one vote in his entire life has Mr. Harding ever cast in favor of the laboring man, but every vote that he has recorded has been with the financial interests."

Mrs. Stewart asked the women of Somerset "if they would line up with the churches and the thinking men and women of the country, democratic and republican, or vote with the negroes, the Germans, the profiteers and war lords."

Mrs. Stewart urged the election of Senator Beckham. She said that Mr. Ernst represented the "big interests" and if we sent men of that type to the Senate "we would soon have a House of Lords sure enough."

"THE PERIL OF THE PARTISAN"

Theme Upon Which Dr. Carpenter Delivers Extraordinary Talk At Christian Church

Another large audience at the First Christian church was greatly pleased with a sermon of extraordinary merit and interest delivered by Dr. Homer W. Carpenter Sunday night.

"The Peril of the Partisan" was the theme upon which he spoke for some time, holding the attention of his hearers from the beginning. In part he said:

"Every generation of men has had its parties and its partisans. Entering the ministry, Jesus found two groups—Jews and Gentiles. There was mutual dislike. They were in constant conflict. Not only in the beginning, but throughout the Christian era did the spirit manifest itself, with the result that the divisions multiplied. Not doctrines, not only in religion, but in social order. Rome had patricians and plebeians, France her nobles and bourgeoisie, England her commons and lords. The parties in political order are: England, four; United States, two major parties. It is not a fact of party, but partisan spirit that has been the shame and sorrow of the world. Division, discord, sorrow, unrest and war with all its horrors resulted from the partisan spirit."

This primary trouble was with the Pharisee of Jesus. Not that he was a Pharisee, but that he was a partisan. He hated other men. Embittered him robbed him of the fine fruitage otherwise given.

"One can afford to sacrifice a friend now and then, but not often. Better held one with hobs of steel and hid them up to God."

"Our great campaign is embittering our community. Scars are being made which years will not heal. Home and institutions will be effected. The unity of our community life will be broken. And for what? For a party's sake and for a partisan spirit."

We are not big enough to give the other man credit for being conscientious—and it may be right? Can't we accord the man the right to think and not criticize him for his conclusions? If not, we classify ourselves as partisans and must pay the price of broken friendships."

The partisan spirit dwarfs one's character. It takes a little man to be a partisan. The big man lives above it. A roll call of the great statesmen of the past reminds us that not one of them has been partisan in spirit. The same is the case of great religious leaders."

100 Men Putting Local Highways in Condition

There are just a few more than 100 men employed on the Madison county roads at the present time, and great progress is being made. It is said this is the most extensive road work being done in this part of the state and while it has been in vogue for some time, will continue until cold weather. It is the belief that the condition of the roads in the county will be in the best condition for years when the task is completed. There are crews of men working in more than half a dozen places at present. The Irvine road is being placed in the best condition ever recorded, while many others are receiving attention and many small bridges are being built as well as many grades and changes in various roadways.

Aunt Dolly McKinney, 92, Gives Cox First Vote

Mrs. Wm. McKinney, better known as "Aunt Dolly," of Union City, who is in her 92nd year, is making one of her periodical visits to Richmond relatives, and incidentally doing a little campaign work on the side, for "Aunt Dolly" feels that she has come into her own, being eligible to vote this year for the first time in her extended life.

"I shall cast my first vote," she said most emphatically, "and I shall vote for Gov. Cox," she added with emphasis. "He is both practical and progressive; he does things, and furthermore, lets you know where he stands and that is what I want to know—what I am voting for."

"Aunt Dolly" is the guest of her niece, Mrs. W. N. Eades, on North street.

100 REPUBLICANS OUT FOR COX AND LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 19.—A joint statement by "over one hundred representative men and women who have usually supported the Republican or Progressive tickets" announcing their intention to vote for Cox and Roosevelt and those senatorial candidates "who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the treaty and adherence to the league," was made public last night by Hamilton Holt, magazine editor.

The statement set forth that "it is now too late to talk of a new 'association of nations,' to be created under Republican auspices," and repudiates the present Republican leadership that "has permitted the Republican party to become a 'little American party,'" urged all Republicans and Progressives to "put patriotism above party" and add their names to the list of signers.

This list, according to Mr. Holt, is increasing daily. An analysis given out with the statement said that it included 15 Republican officers of the League to Enforce Peace; clergymen representing all the principal denominations; the presidents of Oberlin, Vassar, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Mount Holyoke colleges; several veterans of the great war and nine former Republican or Progressive party managers and officeholders. In the last classification were listed, Charles P. Howland, of New York; Violet M. Le Roy, New York; Theodore Warburg, Baltimore; W. H. Nichols, Benning, Vt.; Herbert Parsons, New York; Elias D. Salisbury, Indianapolis; Richard Welling, New York, and Alice White, Wellesley, Mass.

The statement declared that the Republican party in "drifting toward national isolation had repudiated political traditions under which signers had been reared—traditions emphasizing the international responsibilities of America, from Lincoln to Taft."

HIGH PRICES HOLDING UP WORK ON STATE ROADS

Being of the opinion that there will be a depreciation of price before next spring, members of the state highway commission have decided not to award any more contracts this year for road building unless there is a decrease in prices generally. Bids from Whitley and Laurel counties, which were received, are said to be the cause of the action, since it is claimed the prices were out of the ordinary. The commission declined to accept any bids from a number of counties, reporting it would represent a cost of more than $1,500,000 to build certain pieces of road in three counties.

SEVENTY HOUNDS ENTER THE DERBY

12th Annual Meet Proving Biggest Success In History of the Association

With 70 entries, the largest number in its history, members of the Central Kentucky Fox Hunters' Association saw the derby started soon after 5 o'clock Tuesday morning at College Hill, which marked the opening event of the twelfth annual meeting.

With conditions against great scoring, owing to the dryness of the country, members of the association, together with the largest attendance of friends and fanciers yet recorded, saw the auspicious start. The work was unusual for a few hours. However, conditions were against extensive scoring, it is said, and general development work. There were a number of dogs from Ohio, but in the main the contenders for the honors were Kentucky thoroughbreds.

The big start was witnessed by a large number of fanciers. The number of visitors is sufficient to tax the capacity of even the hospitality of the folk of College Hill, and there is every indication that the season's meet will not only be the most auspicious but the most successful in the history of the organization.

President Robert Terrill and other officers were in attendance at an early hour, and the work of mapping out the remainder of the program with such a large entry, was soon under way. The derby will be completed Wednesday, presumably during the morning, unless there should be rain. In this case, the chase will be more extensive.

After this the bench show will be opened, and there will be the four best dogs of the assemblage on exhibition. One of these is said to have been the best scoring hound in the lot thus far developed, and owned by Charles Bicknell, of Owensboro. The result of the derby, however, is not yet officially known. The judges have been taking cognizance of conditions under which the dogs worked and will judge accordingly. There is said to be the finest and most extensive aggregation of hounds ever assembled in this part of the state, and rare credit reflects upon those under whose management the event was planned and is being carried out.

The four males and four females, representing the derby and all-age event, will be eligible for prizes. Those of the all-age class will be reported within a day or two, since this event will take place Thursday. Since there were a greater number of entrants to the derby, it is believed the all-age event will be more extensive, since there will be a greater number of dogs present than was anticipated. There are said to be a number of very promising dogs from the Buckeye state. However, there are many present which will not be able to develop their ability, fanciers assert, owing to the dry weather.

The results of the later events together with the scoring will be officially reported within a few days. Members of the association are pleased over the attendance and interest manifested by many from various parts of the state who are in attendance for the first time.

TOBACCO GROWERS ARE AFFILIATING

Organizers Here Meet With Favorable Results—Affiliate and Standardize Crops Slogan

The Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, new represented in 24 counties in Kentucky, three in Ohio and one in Indiana, is extending its representation to numerous other counties in Kentucky, and promoters of the organization state they will have the entire state affiliated with the association within a period of three weeks or at least 30 days.

Monday night, ex-Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman, of Versailles, and E. M. Mansfield, of Carrollton, were in the city and met a number of producers and after a conference it was decided to hold an adjourned meeting. The future meeting has not been arranged as to date, but will in all probability take place this month, when, it is believed, Madison county will become affiliated with the association.

There were a number of producers in the city and in conference with the organizers who arrived at a late hour, and the meeting, called for the evening, was of short duration, owing to political meetings in the court house, where the tobacco men were to have met.

There were many who voiced their opinions in favor of the association and its method of protecting the producer. If the opinion of several given Monday night is any criterion, there will be a large representation in the association from Madison county.

Mr. Newman came in from Nicholasville, where he perfected a big organization of that county during the day. Lincoln and Garrard counties are new accessions to the association and it is claimed there will be few if any tobacco producing counties in the state not affiliated with the association when the work of organization is completed. There are several organizers in the field.

There will be the largest assemblage of tobacco men ever held in Lexington when the fall market opens, it is declared. Practically all of the producers are planning to visit the city for the purpose of learning the attitude of the buyers.

Unless there is a reasonable price offered, the product will remain in the barns, many of them state. Indications are that there will be the greatest interest ever shown in the matter of tobacco selling this year. The theory of some of the producers as well as organizers is that a short crop and an increase in price will bring more satisfactory returns to the producers than immense productions with a sale at a loss, or a very small price for the product generally.

The standardization of tobacco is another feature dwelt upon by the organizers. They desire it known that producers will have full control of their crop at all times, and may dispose of it at will. However, the grading or standardization of the weed will enable them to receive the market price for what they may have. There will be, it is said, various prices for various grades. If you have so many hundred pounds of this grade, you know what you should realize on it at sale. So much per pound for that grade, etc. This, the promoters state, will enable the producer to know exactly the value of his tobacco supply as soon as it is graded.

COOLIDGE DRAWS MANY SPECTATORS

Big Crowd Hears Republican Nominee Who Arrives Late—What He Had to Say

Gov. Calvin Coolidge, republican candidate for vice president, was welcomed by a large crowd at the depot about six o'clock Monday night. He came on a special train accompanied by Gov. Morrow, of Kentucky, and Gov. Lowden, of Illinois, and made the usual republican plea for votes backed by the usual republican argument. He is making a two-day special train tour of Kentucky.

The train was almost two hours late but the big crowd waited patiently. Many were democrats drawn out of curiosity to see the vice presidential candidate. The din of engines, trains, etc., was so great that many could not hear the nominee speak. He was introduced by a Mr. Huntington, a member of the party on the train.

Gov. Coolidge said he had come to Kentucky to support Governor Morrow "in his appeal to the nation to return to a government under the Constitution, to end the waste and extravagance of the administration to discharge our duty to the world under an independent union but, first of all, to discharge our duty to America."

He eulogized the names of Washington, "a son of Virginia," and Lincoln, "a son of Kentucky," saying that "wherever men name the glory of America and the glory of civilization, these names stand first." Henry Clay he described as "the matchless old Kentuckian," who had contributed much to the progress and prosperity of the young republic.

"Clay knew," he said, in referring to his championing protection to home industries and to his going abroad to assist in negotiating terms of peace after the war of 1812, "that America was not isolated. He knew that America was a part of the great world brotherhood, working out along its own independent lines the welfare of mankind; and from the signing of that treaty of peace in December, 1914, which he helped to negotiate, the world knew that there had grown up upon the American continent a power that could not be ignored. And the world knew, too, that here was a country to which they could turn for sympathy in distress, for aid in trouble and for justice when wrongly assailed."

The art of statesmanship with Washington, Lincoln and Clay, the speaker said, "was the preservation of the liberties of the people and the promotion of their welfare and prosperity. The sure guardian of their liberties was the Constitution, an orderly government was the guarantee of their welfare, and a wise, Americanized industrial policy was the safeguard of their prosperity."

"Principles like theirs, policies like theirs," he said, "cannot be so easily forgotten in a state that would as their memory be a public border line, in the state of Ohio, is the chosen torchbearer of the creed of Clay and of the creed of Lincoln. Born, as they were, one of the common people, he has been nurtured in the faith of the fathers and is an American thru and thru. Like them, an upholder of the Constitution, he stands for government 'of and for and by the people,' through the harmonious co-operation of the co-ordinate branches of the government. Like them he is a defender of the rights and liberties of the people. Like them he believes that the prosperity of America should be guarded by American policies. Like them he believes that America should be united, should be free, should be independent."

"I believe that the people of this country are entitled to a government that will protect their liberties and promote their welfare, and that the only way to secure such a government is by the support of the Constitution and the principles of the fathers."

(Hillsboro, Ohio, Gazette)

"Bill" Burnette, a colored citizen of Marion, Ohio, and a neighbor of Senator Harding, announces in a letter printed in the Marion Tribune that he is for Cox and Roosevelt and will vote the Democratic ticket this year. He has been hustling to make a living "Bill" writes that for 47 years he but it has been only within the past seven years that he has struck "pay dirt." He said he had voted the Republican ticket all those years because he was told if he didn't the country would "go to smash."

Let "Bill" tell it. He says "Fifty years of Republican rule. What do you have? Sow belly and beans and on the Fourth of July round steal and old rooster or hen for Christmas. Don't let them fool you, times are due for a bigger boom than ever. don't want to go back to soup bon days, do you?"

"A Republican manager of a big business told me the other day that I ought to be deported to South Africa, where all 'niggers' belong. I stood right up and told him that during the war I did not even hear of one pig German nigger, and that I hoped before deporting begins, the League of Nations pact would be signed, so the times would improve in South Africa."

"In conclusion," writes Bill, "th Lord Jesus Christ sent His disciples abroad to scatter the message and went about among the people Himself. No front porch campaigning for him. He tried to deliver the goods direct. I am glad the Democratic standard bearer is going to follow the same line of campaigning."

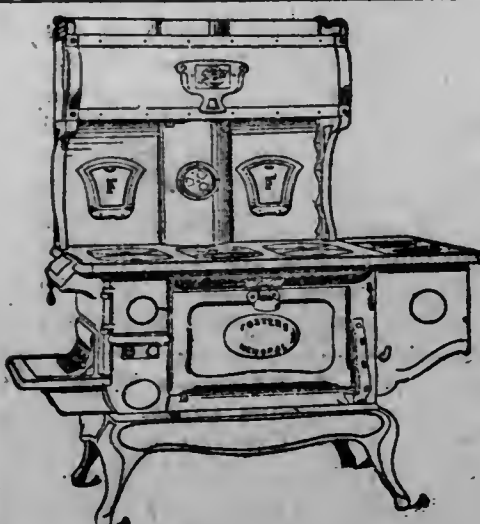

"I understand the fight is to center on the League of Nations. If so tell 'Jimmy' to come right out and say: there is nothing in their two planks for a poor man to shy at."

FOR TORPID LIVER

Tennessee Lumberman Talks of His Successful Use of Black-Draught for Colds and Headaches.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years, in fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A. Ragan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I got a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and it sets me right."

"Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."

Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance that Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from a lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Theodor's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work. Ask for Theodor's Black-Draught, and insist on the genuine. NC-132

At this time of generally unsatisfactory buying conditions, it is emphasized to the thoughtful purchaser that the true value of a corset does not lie in the number of dollars you pay for it, but in the number of days it will wear beyond the life of the average corset and continue to give you the joy of possession it gave the first day you put it on.

Winchester Knives For Everything

Why does a woman prefer a Winchester Kitchen Knife for even such easy cutting as trimming a pie?

Simply because Winchester Knives are made so well, out of such good steel, that she unconsciously forms the habit of using them for everything.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a gentle and laxative, and it is so effective in its effect with regular use, it is so gentle on the bowels, that it is a true medicine of all kinds of constipation.

A statement from Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation means to elderly people; how it hampers the system, causes loss of appetite, sleep, heaviness and a general ill feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

MUNCY BROTHERS

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of fruitless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He then gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know of his discovery through the newspapers. All druggists have been appointed agents for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will free return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all sufferers.

DEAR PETEY:

Winston-Salem, N. C.
Monday

Set you a house and let you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eyefull of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow! Never saw such a cigarette firing-up time in my life!

Peter, everytime you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for mellow mild body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! Camels are simply a revelation! You know that.

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours

LIGHTING THE BARNYARD

There is scarcely a farmer who has installed electricity on his farm but has discovered after installing it an unexpected use for it or a service which it does him that he has not counted on at all. Electricity has long been known in the city as the universal servant and has become so common that people scarcely realize the number of things that electricity is doing for them every day.

When the average farmer decides to put in electricity on his farm he knows that he will get light and power for his house and barns, but the real meaning of these things does not impress itself upon him until he actually gets it. There is, for instance, the matter of a yard light. In the city outside lights are seldom used unless it is on a porch, but in the country an entirely different situation arises, and it has been found that one of the most valuable services that electricity renders to the farmer lies in furnishing a bright and convenient light at some point in the barn yard. One farmer in Ohio has three such lights. One, immediately over his garage, lights up not only the front of the garage, but the yard and driveway at the side of the house. His other two outside lights are at the barn, one on each side so that it is possible for him to have light at the turn of the switch practically wherever he wants it out of doors. He says that when he first put the electricity in he figured that the salesman was selling him something he didn't want in the three outside brackets, which were installed, but he now says there are no three lamps on the place which give him as much service and satisfaction.

GOOD NEWS FROM OIL FIELDS

G. C. Cox, of the firm of Cox & March, received some mighty good news from Warren county last night. He owns a 25-acre tract there in conjunction with his brother, J. F. Cox, and W. T. Congleton, of Lexington. News came that a 200-barrel a day well had been brought in adjoining them on the west, and a well about the same size only 1,000 feet from the lease on the east. They have one small well on their lease already and have been offered $25,000 for their lease, which they got for almost a song. Mr. Cox's many local friends hope that he will make a million out of it.

Arnold Turpin, who has been confined in the Pattie A. Clay hospital for several days as a result of an operation, has been released from the care of the physicians and is able to be out.

Arbor Day, November 19, is being looked forward to by students of many of the county schools. There will be extensive observances in some localities.

Public Auction Small Farms Wednesday, Oct. 27 1:30 P. M.

On the above date in the town of Kirksville, Madison County, Kentucky, I will offer for sale to the highest and best bidder some choice selections in small farms, improved and unimproved.

FIRST SELECTION

The present home of S. P. and J. B. Curtis, situated in the very heart of the town of Kirksville, is a very pretty home, nearly new bungalow residence of 6 rooms, a beautiful shade lawn gently sloping to Main street, contains about 3 acres of good land, extra fertile garden and all minor outbuildings.

SECOND SELECTION

A beautiful building site, adjoining Selection No. 1 and contains about 1 1-2 acres, and has on it a good stock barn which will house about one acre of tobacco.

SELECTION No. THREE

To No. 1 with the handsome bungalow can be added a tract containing about 17 acres adjoining on back line, this to make about 20 acres with this fine home.

SELECTION No. FOUR

To Tract No. 2 can be added about 15 acres adjoining on the back line, which will give about 15 acres with the good building site and barn. This will front Main Street, Kirksville.

SELECTION NUMBER 5

All these four tracts can be combined, if you wish, and make you one of the best small farm homes in Madison County, containing about 35 acres, all good land, in sight of Kirksville High School, three churches, well watered and in grass just ready for the plow.

SELECTION NUMBER 6

On the same day I will offer unimproved Baby Farms on the land of Charles Wagers, fronting on the Moran's Mill Turnpike in the town of Kirksville, and adjoins Selection No. 5. First one of these small farms will contain about 3 acres and has a beautiful building site. No. 2 of this number will adjoin first number and contains about 9 acres, and has good pike frontage. Third number of this selection will have good building site and adjoins the second number and contains 7 acres. Fourth number of this selection will adjoin the third number and has good place for residence building and contains about 7 acres. Fifth number of this selection adjoins the fourth number and also adjoins the fine farm of J. T. Coy and has a good building site and contains about 9 acres. Any two or more of these can be combined and make a baby farm up to 35 acres for you.

THOUGHT

You can add selection 6 to selection 5 and have a fine farm right in town and to contain about 70 acres.

SELECTION NUMBER SEVEN

On same date we will sell for Mr. H. W. Coy what is known as the Will Arbuckle home place situated near Morans Mill and known as good a piece of land as a crow ever flew over. Has been in old blue grass sod for the past 20 years and was rich land to begin with. Is improved with a handsome 8 room residence, good garage building, good combined stock and tobacco barn, good chicken houses, and in fact just anything you want. Men who know Will Arbuckle and his progressive ways and who know that he lived at this place for 15 to 20 years, would not have to be told of the conveniences to be found here. This small farm contains only 20 acres and is in the Kirksville High School District and is just what you want.

SELECTION NUMBER EIGHT

At the same date we will offer a small home now occupied by Hiram Hughes, and adjoins selection number 7 and has a good small dwelling house, small barn and many improvements and contains 2 acres. This should appeal to some man wanting to own his own home.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Rodes Terrill is back at work in the office of County Clerk Jennings Maupin after a three weeks' stay in the Pattie A. Clay hospital, where he underwent an operation. John Horn is able to be out after a extended illness of typhoid.

The work of finishing Main street between First and Second streets was begun Tuesday morning. This thoroughfare will be opened for traffic in a few days, and then the streets surrounding the court yard will all be open, thus adding to the traffic congestion. Local details report a good business. Some of them report they have been working over time for several weeks and are yet behind with their work.

That Harding is against the Woman's party he is making more manifest every day. New electric lights have been installed at the Baptist church at Union City, thus adding to the improvements of that place.

Community singing at the various schools of the county which was recently taken up, is becoming very extensive, several being booked for the near future.

Discussions and debates between county schools are much in evidence and plans are being formulated whereby many meetings of this character will be held during the winter months.

Kirksville school instructors report an increase in attendance since the close of the working season and those having special permits are returning to their studies.

Democratic rally week is on at Lexington with speaking every night.

WM. J. BRYAN SAYS FILIPINO WON THE HONORS

(In a signed, copyrighted article written from the Democratic convention hall at San Francisco for the International News Service, William J. Bryan paid the following remarkable tribute to Jose P. Melencio, the young Filipino who is in charge of the Philippine Independence Publicity campaign in the United States.)

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Melencio. He has charge of the Philippine Publicity Bureau at Washington.

He is only twenty-six years old and received his education in the public schools of the Philippines—under American teachers, as he proudly boasted—and at Georgetown, D. C. He is a remarkably promising young man.

Speaking with grace, using the best language and without a trace of embarrassment, he presented the claim of the Filipinos to independence. The audience was astonished at the strength of his argument, the skill with which he marshaled his facts and the high tone of his speech. He captivated everyone and committeemen and visitors paid him the compliment of rising and cheering when he concluded his plea.

When one of the committee asked him some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had taken weeks to prepare his answer. It was a remarkable triumph.

As one who began twenty-two years ago to fight for the promise of Independence I was proud of this illustration of what the Filipino is capable.

A special delegation of Filipinos, officially representing the Filipino people, attended the Republican and Democratic National conventions, seeking an endorsement of the Filipino desire for independence in the two platforms. Their arguments, briefly stated, were as follows:

First.—That the American Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed;

Second.—That the American Congress, in the Jones law, solemnly promised the establishment of a stable government, and that their claim that the said stable government is now in existence in the islands has been officially confirmed by America's own representatives there; and

Third.—That America went before the world in the recent war as the avowed champion of "self determination," American soldiers having been told it was one of the things they were fighting and dying for.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to a census just completed, are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.
